Spoken-word reflections on Jewish voices of dissent and acts of protest, past and present.

STORYTELLERS:

Sam Brody (University of Kansas and Katz Center Fellow, University of Pennsylvania)
Lital Levy (Princeton University)
Daniel Mark (Villanova University)
Keren Soffer Sharon (educator and organizer, Jews for Racial and Economic Justice)
Eli Valley (cartoonist, Village Voice, New Republic)

Sunday, March 26 | 3:00 p.m. | $5
National Museum of American Jewish History
101 South Independence Mall East

For tickets, visit www.cla.temple.edu/feinsteincenter/

Cosponsored with The Herbert D. Katz Center for Advanced Judaic Studies, University of Pennsylvania, the National Museum of American Jewish History, and Jewish Federation of Greater Philadelphia.
Jews and the Jam
Date, time, and location TBA
A concert and discussion featuring acclaimed jam band musicians, the publisher of Relix Magazine, and Rabbi Dan Ain of Because Jewish. Together, the group will explore the significant Jewish presence in the jam band scene and consider how the genre serves as a site of spiritual connection for so many Jews and non-Jews alike.

For more details about these and other Feinstein programs, check www.cla.temple.edu/feinsteincenter/

Dr. Annie Polland (Senior Vice President of Education & Programs, Tenement Museum)
Keynote Address, Public History Community Forum
Wednesday, March 8 | 1:00 p.m.
American Philosophical Society, Benjamin Franklin Hall, 427 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia
A day of workshops and discussions on the theme “This is Why We Fight: Public History for the Public Good,” with a special keynote delivered by Dr. Polland. For registration details, see 2017.pubcommphilly.com.
Cosponsored with Mid-Atlantic Regional Center for the Humanities, Rutgers University-Camden, and the Center for Public History at Temple University.

Professor Ronit Stahl, (University of Pennsylvania) “Fighting with Faith: The Military Chaplaincy and the American State”
Wednesday, April 5 | 3:30 p.m.
Weigley Room, 9th Floor, Gladfelter Hall, Polett Walk, Temple University
Stahl examines how the military has used and managed religion over the twentieth century and demonstrates the complexities of state investment in religion.
Cosponsored with Temple University’s History Department, and the Center for the Study of Force and Diplomacy.

Professor Nelson Cerqueira, (Federal University of Bahia)
Thursday, April 20 | 4:00 p.m.
821 Anderson Hall, Polett Walk, Temple University
A discussion of Cerqueira’s recent novel exploring Jewish life in Brazil.
Cosponsored with the Department of Spanish and Portuguese, and the Center for the Humanities at Temple University.