

Neuroscience Travel Award

Neuroscience Travel Award

A travel stipend in the amount of $500 will be awarded to a CLA Neuroscience Major student in good standing. This award is meant to help defray the costs of attending a national meeting at which an abstract has been accepted and the student is presenting a poster that they are an author on. When possible, the meeting registration will be pre-paid and other costs will be covered by reimbursement.

In order to be considered for the award, students must:

- Complete a travel award application (<http://www.cla.temple.edu/neuroscience/announcements/index.htm>)
- Submit a 1 -2 page description of their research project
- Include a letter of support from research mentor
- The student's research must be presented at the Spring Poster session

A committee will select one award recipient based upon the criteria listed above. The prize will be awarded on the day of the Spring Poster session. Applications are due by April 24. Please contact Jennifer Ravelli at Jennifer.Ravelli@temple.edu for further information.
